To the Ballerina Farm team,

My wife loves your bone broth hot cocoa. So when I saw you're hiring a Director of E-Commerce, I paid attention.

I run GullStack, and we build the systems that sit under that kind of seat. So I built one for Ballerina Farm from your public store: a morning report with the numbers that role owns, support replies drafted from your own policies, and launch checks.

Along the way it caught two things: your cart and your FAQ list different free-shipping exclusions, and your subscriptions are mid-move from Recharge to Skio.

Take a look: pitches.gullstack.com/ballerina-farm

I'd obviously discount the entire thing for a bone broth hot cocoa subscription.
