This is not a standard application. GullStack proposes to run the systems under your Director of E-Commerce: a daily report of the numbers that role owns, support replies drafted from your own policies, launch checks, and care for your subscription move. A working version, built from your public store, is at pitches.gullstack.com/ballerina-farm.

WHAT WE BUILT FOR BALLERINA FARM

- The Morning Report — sales, conversion, order value, ad return, subscriptions, support and sold-out items on one page. pitches.gullstack.com/ballerina-farm-demo
- Support drafts — replies to common tickets that quote your published policies, held for a person on your team to send.
- Launch checks — before a drop goes live: price, subscription plan, stock, and whether the site agrees with itself.
- What it caught on day one — the cart and FAQ list different free-shipping exclusions (8 vs 11), processing time reads 2–7 days in one place and 2–8 in another, and subscriptions are mid-move from Recharge to Skio.

EXPERIENCE

GullStack / Walkthru Labs — Co-founder

Present

- Builds websites, search programs, custom portals and operating dashboards that replace software a company already pays for.

PPA Tour — Employee No. 1, now President

2019 – present

- Employee number one in 2019. Ran marketing, logistics and sales, then built the business underneath: projections, tech stack, hiring and company structure.
- Helped raise $200M+ from Apollo Sports Capital. 100+ PPA Tour events; 1.05M peak CBS viewers.

Blip Billboards — Marketing leadership

Before pickleball

- Led ten-plus marketers and $3M+ a year in paid spend.

SUSE — Enterprise web

- Plus marketing systems across SaaS, education and financial services.
